EXPECT FIGHT ON BILL

Lumber, Oil and Hide Schedules to be Attacked — Bill Contains 85,000
Words

Washington, June 30.—The Fordney Tariff bill, avowedly signed to replace the high protective system of duties upon imports and to replace the existing Underwood tariff-revenue act, was introduced in the House late yesterday afternoon after the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee had considered its provisions for more than six months.

Unofficial estimates by members of the Ways and Means Committee placed the expected return as high as $700,000,000 a year. The Payne-Aldrich law in the normal pre-war years produced a little more than $300,000,000 a year.

This measure, which likewise will replace the temporary tariff act passed a few weeks ago, was at once referred to the committee for further consideration. It will now be laid before the Democratic as well as the Republican members of that body, and in the course of a week majority and minority reports will be made to the House. Thereafter a special rule will be sought limiting the debate upon the bill to the hope of passing it to the Senate for consideration within the next three weeks.

It is a matter of widespread doubt whether the Fordney bill will pass the House unamended, however. There is revolt of a dangerous character already against certain of the Fordney schedules, notably that which would bar the importation of Canadian lumber duty-free until such time as Canada repeals its tax upon American lumber. This revolt is in the ranks of the majority, moreover, the insurgents counting upon solid Democratic support to defeat the lumber sections of the bill.

Other features of the bill are unsatisfactory to Republican elements as well as to the Democrats and all the resources of Chairman Fordney will be needed to save his bill from serious emasculation, even if he commands the active support of the President.

The first open contest will come tomorrow night when the Republican membership of the House will caucus upon the bill. Notice was given today that the lumber, oil and hide schedules would be attacked at that time. Announcement also was forthcoming this afternoon that Representative Freese, a Republican member of the committee, would fight the chemical schedule and would submit a minority report, if forced to do so.

After the bill reaches the Senate, it will face opposition of a different character. Its own friends on the Senate Finance Committee promise to shove it until after Congress has enacted a new taxation measure. If this comes to pass the country will not know what its tariff duties are to be for months. It may be late autumn before the bill is sent to the President.

The Fordney bill is perhaps the longest tariff measure on record. It covers 346 printed pages with more than 85,000 words. Although it is frankly a protective measure, Chairman Fordney insists that it is less drastic in its operation than the Payne-Aldrich bill. He contends that, speaking broadly, it levies a tariff of only about 16 per cent. ad valorem as against 24 per cent. levied in the Payne bill of 1909, and about 7 per cent. ad valorem levied in the Underwood act of 1913.

In comparison with the Underwood law the new bill removes many articles from the free list, although it leaves a large list free of duty, including paper, wool, pigs, leather and harness and agricultural implements. It raises its duties on the great bulk of imports already being taxed. It has made no notable additions to the free list.

An estimate with the Payne-Aldrich law would be possible only by

Now In Operation

Old Dominion Glass Factory With 150 Men at Work

The factory of the Old Dominion Glass Company resumed operations on Monday, June 20, after having been closed since the disastrous fire in its plant last fall. At the present time, it is operating at about one-half its full capacity. About 150 men are now employed at the factory of these 50 are glass blowers. Two shifts of workmen are now in operation. Milk jars, milk bottles, and various other food containers are being manufactured. The chief product being milk bottles. In the early fall the company hopes to be able to run the factory at full capacity, in which event it will give employment to many more men.

The company officials are as follows: Lorenzo Woolford, president; Ralph Bartemura, vice-president; Irvin Schwartzmann, secretary; and George Schwartzmann, treasurer. These same gentlemen constitute the board of directors.

The committee will elect nine delegates and nine alternates. Both men and women are invited to attend. John U. Schwartzmann, city chairman, will preside. Remarkable Cats

Sister Cats Give Birth to Twins and Triplets on Same Day

Here is some cat story. There are two cats domiciled at 1023 King street, probably sisters, who on two occasions have given birth to twins and triplets respectively on the same day. The owner of the cats has observed that if one mother is absent for any length of time when chow time arrives the five baby kittens are fed by the mother present. Other information about these remarkable felines may be obtained from the owner.

A. H. Smyth Dies

Victim of Typhoid Fever—Was Manager of Emerson Pump and Valve Company

Abraham Hewes Smyth, forty-one years old, died at 9:45 o'clock last night at the Alexandria Hospital of typhoid fever. Mr. Smyth had been ill about a week. The deceased was manager of the Emerson Pump and Valve Company of this city which position he had held for several years past. Mr. Smyth was an expert machinist. The announcement of his death was received with regret by his many friends. Mr. Smyth being a popular resident. The deceased besides his wife is survived by his mother, Mrs. Caroline Smyth and a brother and two sisters. James S. Smyth, this city; Miss Mary H. Smyth, this city and Mrs. John P. Poyon, Pacific Grove, California. The body was taken to his late residence in the Rosemont apartment 414 Duke street and prepared for burial.

Tariff experts making a detailed study because the schedules of the proposed bill and the old law are differently constructed.

As drafted, the bill appears under four titles, the first dealing with duties imposed; the second, with the free list; the third, with special provisions; and the fourth, with administrative features.

There are 14 schedules of duties under the first title, amended 1, 2, 5, 1, etc., instead of being lettered A, B, C, D, etc., as the case of earlier tariff bills. The first schedule covers chemicals, oils and paints; the second, earthenware and glassware; third, metals and manufactures; fourth, food, wool and manufactures; fifth, sugar and molasses; sixth, tobacco; seventh, agricultural products; eighth, spirits, wines and other beverages; ninth, cotton manufactures; tenth, flax, hemp, jute and manufactures thereof; eleventh, wool, twinning and silk goods; twelfth, paper and books; and thirteenth, sundries.

DE VALERA REFUSES CALL OF PREMIER IN ITS PRESENT FORM

Dublin, June 30.—The proposal of Premier Lloyd George for a conference in London on the Irish question between representatives of Southern and Northern Ireland and the British Government is impossible of acceptance in its present form.

This declaration is made by Eamonn de Valera, the Irish Republican leader, to Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, in reply to Sir James' notification that he cannot meet Mr. de Valera in a preliminary conference in Dublin.

Mr. de Valera's letter is quoted by the Irish Bulletin, organ of the Dail Eireann, as follows:

"Greatly regret that you cannot come to a conference in Dublin Monday. Mr. Lloyd George's proposal, because of its implications, is impossible of acceptance in its present form. Our political differences ought to be adjusted, and can, I believe, be adjusted on Irish soil. But it is obvious that in the negotiation of peace with Great Britain the Irish delegation ought not to be divided, but should act as a unit on some common principle."

The Sinn Fein organization today issued a statement denying that Eamonn de Valera, the Irish Republican leader, had visited Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, at Mount Joy Prison, as has been reported. The statement said: "No such indignity would be offered Mr. Griffith by the president as to seek a conference with him within the walls of a British prison."

The Dail Eireann, or Irish Republic Parliament, has authorized retaliatory measures against reprisals by members of the Crown forces. The order states that whenever a house or other property is destroyed by the "enemy" or whether alleged military necessity or not; a similar number of houses belonging to the most active enemies of Ireland may be destroyed in the same manner, except when the destruction has been cleared on the order of the "enemy." No persons shall be regarded as an enemy, the order adds, unless actively and Irish-

HOUSE ADOPTS PLAN FOR DISARMAMENT

Votes 330 to 4 to Substitute It For Amendment to Naval Bill

WITHOUT SUBSTITUTE

Text of Harding's Letter—Already Making Inquiries Regarding The Attitude of Foreign Nations

Washington, June 30.—The House agreed today to the Naval disarmament amendment to the Naval Appropriation bill.

The vote was 330 to 4. Representative Moore, Indiana, Republican, and Representative Campbell, Pennsylvania; Carlew, New York, and O'Brien, New Jersey, Democrats, voted in the negative. Linsberger, Republican, California, voted present.

Wild shouts greeted Representative Kelley, Michigan, in charge of the bill, when he moved to concur with the Senate in the Borah amendment to the Naval Appropriation bill. In no mood for extended debate, many members rose, applauding and cheering and began to chant, "vote, vote, vote." They quitted down, however, when Representative Mondell, Idaho, had received from President Harding, in which the President declared it was "wholly desirable" to have the expression of a favorable opinion on the part of Congress relating to world disarmament. The letter said it was "not of particular concern to the administration what form the expression of Congress shall take."

Debate which lasted half an hour, was confined to Mr. Mondell, Representative Garrett, Tennessee, acting Democratic leader, and Representative Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina. Contrary to the expectation of some members, no attempt was made to offer the Porter substitute, which was considered broader than the Borah amendment, in that it would not restrict participants in the proposed conference to Great Britain, Japan and the United States, nor discussion solely to reduction of naval armaments.

After referring to the Borah Amendment as "narrow and restrictive," Mr. Mondell declared that "inasmuch as the bill would go back on the last day of the fiscal year to the Senate, where one persistent and insistent gentleman can block the wheels of legislation, he doubted whether it would be wise to haggle over the exact wording of the amendment."

Representative Garrett declared it was "most desirable" that the House concur in the Borah proposal without amendment, while Mr. Byrnes, announcing he also favored such action, asserted Republican leaders in the House had "wiggled and wobbled" on the disarmament question.

The text of the President's communication follows: "There has come to my attention the questions in disagreement between the two houses of Congress on the naval bill, and I understand they are in process of adjustment, but that some difficulty has been experienced in arriving at a satisfactory agreement with regard to the language to be used in expressing the favorable attitude of the Congress toward efforts to secure international agreements for the limitation of armaments."

"A number of members of Congress have been good enough to inquire as to the form of expression on the part of Congress which might seem most advisable from an administrative viewpoint."

"I have said to inquirers, as I am now pleased to say to you, that it is not of particular concern to the administration what form the expression of Congress shall take, although it is most agreeable that Congress shall express itself in favor of securing, if possible, an international agreement upon a program for the limitation of armaments."

"It has been pretty well understood that the administration has been seeking in connection with regard to the attitude of foreign nations, on the general subject of disarmament, those inquiries and negotiations will be continued, and the time and manner in which the matter may be formally presented to foreign governments can only be determined after the full development of inquiries already initiated."

"It is wholly desirable to have the expression of a favorable opinion on the part of Congress relating to this world question and it would seem to me ample if it should be expressed in the broadest and most general terms."

80,000 TICKETS SOLD BY RICKARD FOR WORLD'S BOUT

All fear that rain or bad weather may interfere with the staging of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight at Jersey City next Saturday was dispelled today when the official forecaster of the United States Weather Bureau announced that "ideal weather" would prevail.

"Weather conditions at Jersey City will be practically ideal, so far as we can tell now," said the forecaster. New York, June 30.—More than 80,000 seats for the Dempsey-Carpenter fight at Jersey City on Saturday have been sold and more than $1,100,000 in the coffers of Promoter Tex Rickard.

Legal interference has been practically quelled, all details for the big fight arranged, and all that remains to make "the battle of the century" a success is good weather. With but a few minor details to wind up, therefore, Promoter Rickard took things easy today.

The total expense of the fight, including the $500,000 purse, is estimated at $1,000,000. As the sale has already passed that mark, and there is a chance that every one of the 91,613 seats in the arena will be filled, there is a chance that the "gate" will be $1,670,000, or more than three times that of any previous fight in history.

Betting was a bit livelier today. Carpenter money, which had been scarce, appeared in larger quantities, and the odds on Dempsey dropped from 3 to 1 to 2 1-2 to 1. Many freak bets and wagers on the number of rounds the fight will last were recorded.

Investigation by Rickard's agents and the authorities brought to light today the fact that there are apparently three sets of counterfeit tickets on the market. The authorities are searching for every clew.

HALF-MILLION BOOSTERS READY TO BOOM BUSINESS

Columbus, Ohio, June 30.—Get the traveling men who have been withdrawn from the road because of high railroad fares, back on the job and business will be stimulated, D. K. Clink, Chicago, told delegates to the thirty-fourth annual session of the supreme council, United Commercial Travelers of America. Clink is secretary-treasurer of the International Federation of Commercial Travelers' Organizations. He reported favorable progress on bills in Congress to make lower railroad fares available for commercial travelers.

"Every traveling salesman is an optimist," Clink said. "Get five hundred thousand of them abroad in the country, meeting dealers face to face, and business is bound to boom."

RAT BITES MAN AND WIFE IN FIERCE NIGHT FIGHT

Cumberland, Md., June 30.—Mrs. A. C. Peters, 32 Waverly Terrace, was attacked by a rat which bit her foot while she was asleep. She leaped from her bed and aroused her husband, who found a large rat hiding in the wardrobe.

The rodent showed fight and before Mr. Peters could dispatch it, it bit him on the foot. It was necessary for him to have the wound cauterized.

LIGHTNING KILLS TWO SHEEPERED INSIDE BARN

Greensburg, Pa., June 30.—Steve Tobud, thirty-eight, and Bolent Nobok, forty-two, both employees of the Concessions Coal and Coke Company, were instantly killed yesterday by lightning while on their way home from work.

Caught in a terrific thunderstorm the men took refuge in a barn on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. John House, near Whitney. The barn was struck and both men were killed.

One Year Per Shooting—Prohibition Violator Given Two Month and $50 Fine

In the corporation court today, Judge Robinson Monrore, presiding, in the case of the commonwealth against Joseph Jenkins, colored, indicted for the malicious shooting of Samuel L. DeJohn, colored, the jury returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment at one year in the penitentiary.

In the same court the jury in the case of Thomas Haggett, indicted for a violation of the prohibition law, returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment at two months in jail and imposed a fine of $50. The accused parties were represented by Attorney Charles Henry Smith and Commonwealth's attorney Howard W. Smith conducted the prosecution.

WAIVES HEARING

The man describing himself as Long C. Rorer, charged Tuesday afternoon near the Seminary Station, Fairfax county, a mile west of this city, yesterday afternoon appeared before Police Justice Snow and waived the formally of a preliminary hearing and was held for the action of the grand jury. He furnished a cash bail bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance before grand jury. He is charged by the police with a violation of the state prohibition law.

MONKEY BACK SUITS NOW EN ROUTE FOR THE ASH CAN

Rochester, N. Y., June 30.—The men who dictate the style in men's clothing, the international Association of Clothing Designers, opened their twenty-third annual convention here yesterday. Spring styles for 1922 are on exhibition. They show a tendency to get back to "normality" in the cut of men's garments.

The pronounced incurve of the waist-line, accompanied by flaring coat skirts, are doomed to extinction. Trousers, too, are to be reformed. Instead of clinging to the legs of the wearer, they will be more comfortably voluminous and bowlegged men will once more have a chance, as will the "short stout," to whom the post-war styles have been one long torture.

The most noticeable tendency is toward more fullness of figure, replacing the supposedly "elegant" slenderness of the extreme military styles that followed the war and have prevailed since. The belted blouse, while not yet banished, is unquestionably losing favor and is slated for certain oblivion in the near future.

ATLANTIC CITY DRYS RAID ICE CREAM SHOP

Atlantic City, June 30.—A raid by prohibition agents on drug stores and "ice cream parlors" where, it is charged, liquor is being sold, resulted in the arrest here yesterday of five persons. They are Peter Elias, Lewis B. Hoffman, Robert McMeans, David Podolnick, and Robert Erney.

Elias is proprietor of one of the ice cream parlors, who was fined on a similar charge several weeks ago. Hoffman is the proprietor and McMeans an employee of a drug store. Podolnick and Erney also are in the drug business. All are held in $1,500 bail each for a hearing tomorrow before Judge Jagersoll.

SINN FEIN FOUNDER IS RELEASED FROM MOUNTJOY PRISON

Dublin, June 30.—Arthur Griffith, founder and president of the Sinn Fein, and Dr. MacNeill, who is high in the councils of the Irish Republicans, were released from Mountjoy prison today.

Both Griffith and MacNeill are members of parliament, but both, in accordance with the policy of the Sinn Fein, have refused to take their seats. It is certain that both Republican officials were released so that they could confer with Eamon De Valera.

GERMANY MAKE ANOTHER PAYMENT IN GOLD MARKS

Paris, June 30.—Germany yesterday paid 44,000,000 gold marks to the reparations commission. The payment was made in European currency, due to the commission's recent decision temporarily not to require dollar payments because of the adverse effect on exchange.

Today's payment makes a total of about 250,000,000 marks that Germany has turned over to the reparations commission. The balance of the 26th installment, which is in ninety-day drafts is due at the end of July.

VETERAN R. R. MAN RETIRED BY CO.

George E. Fogg Served 35 Years With Baltimore and Ohio

CONTINUOUS SERVICE

Retirement Comes on Anniversary of His Seventieth Birthday—Started to Work at Age of Fourteen Years

After having spent the past thirty-five consecutive years as a boiler-maker with the railroad company, George E. Fogg, of 1410 Duke street, has been retired on a pension.

Mr. Fogg spent twenty-one years with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shop in Washington and for the last fourteen years has been with the Washington Terminal Company.

At the age of thirty-five years Mr. Fogg started to work with the Baltimore and Ohio Company and he continued in their employment until 1907 and then was transferred to the Washington Terminal Company till May 31, 1921, this marking the seventieth anniversary of his birth.

Mr. Fogg was not anxious to be placed on the retired list although he receives a pension, expressing a desire to continue his services with that company, at least, another year.

His record throughout has been one of practically continuous service. Prior to entering the railroad service Mr. Fogg was first employed at the age of fourteen at the old Mount Vernon Cotton Factory on North Washington street and continued in the employment for a period of nine years. Later he became an apprentice of the old Virginia Millmill Railroad Company from 1876 to 1882 in the capacity of boiler-maker. Afterward he was employed at the Washington Navy Yard, Pettit and Gorman on the river front in this city and with the Charles Schneider Iron Works, Washington and afterward for Pettit and Dupp, ironworkers in Washington.

Later he became connected with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad beginning services with that company March 9, 1886.

Mr. Fogg was born in Laurel, Md., and came to Alexandria when a child.

CITY MANAGER PLAN

J. R. Caton Addresses Kiwanis Club Today

Attorney James R. Caton at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club this afternoon in the Westminster building delivered an interesting address on the proposed change in the city form of government to that of the city manager plan. The luncheon was largely attended. Boost prizes were distributed by J. Randall Caton, Jr., and George E. Warfield president.

Interesting Figures.

The Virginia Association for the Common Good has sent our Chamber of Commerce a tabulated statement, showing the proportion of taxable values of property of Virginia cities,
as compared with that of counties.

The taxable value of the total city property is $81,- $42,964, as against the state, of $1,624,916,088. That is, the value of property in cities is 50.07 percent of that of the entire state. The total valuation of property
in Alexandria is $14,483,890.
The total valuation of property in the Eighth District is $108,892,349, or 6.67 per cent of the whole state.
Alexandria's valuation is 13.36 per cent of the Eighth District, and 89 of one percent of the state. Aving-ton County has a valuation of $12,130,973; Culpeper, of $7,871,524; Fairfax, of $13,- 012,457; Fauquier, of $15,- 919,385; King George, of $1,790,732; Loudoun, of $21,- 286,274; Louisa, of $5,619,- 245; Orange, of $7,923,800;
Prince William, of $6,215,- 324; and Stafford, of $2,139,- 245.

These figures show that Alexandria City is only exceeded in taxable values by two counties in the 8th district, Fauquier and Loudoun.

To those interested, the comparative statement may be seen in full at the Chamber of Commerce. It itemizes the different sources of wealth in the state, and details those of each county in our Congressional District.

The Association says that the crux of the tax situation is that people do not make proper returns, and the faithful and honest few who do, bear the brunt and burden of taxes. How about tax renditions in Alexandria? Are we more honest or less, than our neighbors in this District? We pay 13.36 per cent of the valuation of the eleven counties and cities in the District, and it would seem to a man up a tree that we are paying more than our just share of the burden.

If we had a city manager
it would be his job to look into this matter for the weal of the city. As it is, who is there in our cumbersome
congeries of city officials who would consider it his duty to run the fox to earth!

This Virginia Association
for the Common Good is really doing uncommon good
—and deserves great credit
therefor.

Dear Sir:
Enclosed herewith you will please desire to congratulate you upon your stand in the Tucker-Trinkle fight.

The old principles for which Mr.
Tucker stands have tumbled out, and we need progress. A strict construction of Mr. Tucker's "Back to the Constitution" must mean back to slavery, and back to no education to the masses. While some of us did not at the time see the advantages to be derived from the change from these old time conditions we most certainly see it now. Mr. Trinkle stands for progress. Stands for all that which has given us the conditions we are now enjoying while the "Leopard has not changed his spots."
The State is desirous of maintaining our present laws and the only way to thoroughly enjoy them is to put in office the men who made them possible, believe in them and desire to see them maintained. Principle should

Keep The Medical School And Hospital At The University Of Virginia

Ever since 1819, when Thomas Jefferson founded the University of Virginia, the medical professors and those who had at heart the best interest of Virginia and her State universities have striven to maintain the superiority of their medical school.

This great effort for proficiency was stimulated by the "Hanging Sword of Damocles" which threatened to move the University's medical school to Richmond. The medical faculty were so perturbed by this persistent demand, that in April, 1867,
they addressed a petition to the General Assembly earnestly protesting against such a suggestion.

Through the efforts of those men
the school remained in old Charlot-tlesville, and now occupies the high place that it does in the medical world.

Today the University of Virginia is menaced by this same sword which threatened to cut off her medical school and her hospital; and the thread that will stay that sword forever, is the Legislature.

Today the medical school of the University of Virginia is larger and better equipped than it has ever been,
in any preceding year, since its foundation.

The old cry of no clinical facilities
will no longer hold, for medical experts from all over America, experts of the General Education board, the Rockefeller and Carnegie foundations, have examined impartially every phase of the situation and are protesting against the proposed dis-memberment of the University.

Virginians! the fields of political endeavor are ready for harvesting and the old reaper, the ballot box, is near at hand.

The University appeals to you her alumni, and to you the people, to heartily support the best interests of this Old Dominion as a whole. See to it that we have the right men to make our laws,
men who will stand with the voice of the people for the best interests of the people; men who will not be swayed or influenced by the vain pomps and glory of Rome; men who will not be deceived or alarmed by the cries of a selfish, unscrupulous, but ambitious Legislature who will take no account for the best interests of the State and not as a capital city.

Mohammed, when he said that the mountain will not come to him will go to the mountain. And we will have given to the dear old U. Va.
her just right, the right to govern
and be governed by the original plan
of Thomas Jefferson.

Gone in the best of her days,
Blighted in womanhood's bloom,
Torn from the hearts that loved her,

God forgive me, but the longing
So intense and full of pain,
Just to clasp her in my arms,
Just to feel her kiss again.

Weary with years and worn with

Thine in the Lord to rest, for so,

To Coal Consumers:--

It is not possible to mine, transport and deliver enough coal during the few Fall and Winter months to supply the demand of that period, so it is always necessary for the trade to take in a reasonable amount of coal during the Spring and Summer months in order to avoid a shortage and high prices.

There is being so small a tonnage stored this Summer that it now looks very much a stouph there might be a pronounced shortage and higher prices
when the weather begins to get cold.

As we see very little likelihood of any decrease in the price of high grade domestic coal between this tim and cold weather, we are taking this method of urging our customers to take in a reasonable amount of fuel now.

A NEWSPAPER-A-DAY KEEPS DOCTORS AWAY

Atlantic City, N. J., June 30.—Newspapers were credited with keeping people well by Dr. Caldwell Morison, of Newark, in an address today before the convention of the Allied Medical Association.

"The daily newspaper," he said, "keeps the people well instructed. The masses are growing wise. They are learning not to heed the doctor nor his medicine. Soon the great surgeon, the distinguished specialist, the doctor dogmatist, and the scientist will alone be left. He said the specialist was elbowing the general practitioner in a way that was reducing their number and causing alarm. He predicted the time was coming when the general doctor would be placed on a salary basis."

WOMAN BOOTLEG CHIEF HUNTED FOR IN NEW YORK

New York, June 30.—The bender police today began a search for a woman believed to be directing operations of a gang running bootleg liquor into New York from Jersey. A motor truck was found today sitting in front of a saloon. Sixteen oil cans holding liquor were found in the vehicle.

The driver told the police that this woman had been seen at the party from Haskensack to Conny Island this morning.

Haskensack, he said, the woman, with several men, stopped the truck, loaded it with cans and ordered it driven to the saloon.

The driver said he had been locked in a back room on his arrival in New York and told to keep silent if he would avoid arrest, as the oil was "smooth."

Primary In August

Richmond, Va., June 29.—Just a few months ago thirty days remain before the people of Virginia will go to the polls and register their choice for governor for the coming four years. The people will say if they want a virile and successful young business man, a farmer and lawyer, to direct the affairs of the Commonwealth, or if the man shall be of distinguished ancestry, a law teacher, who served in Congress for years and who is delightfully entertaining, to occupy the office and discharge the duties. It is up to the people to say, and when they have had their say they should and must be content to endorse the will of the majority.

Certainly no one can do more than guess the result of the primary fixed for August 2, and one man's guess is his belief. In that one man is as capable as another, except where those who come in contact with the people from every part of the State have a better opportunity to gauge sentiment and summarize the opinions. If this is to be the gauge, then there would appear to be little reason to doubt that Senator Triplett will have the majority of the people. What will that majority be? That is what puzzles and mystifies the people who may want to vote with the majority.

Friends of Senator Triplett are to be seen here in the city daily, coming from all parts of the State, and if what they say around the hotel lobbies is a guide, then there is no reason to doubt that his majority will be well beyond 20,000. On the other hand, Mr. Tucker's friends aver that he will walk away with the nomination, that it was before Senator Triplett entered the fight, and that it is all over but the shouting.

There is little question that the sporting element favors Mr. Tucker, as do those who hope for a loosening of the prohibition laws, and they meet and talk and declare that there is no question of his receiving a liberal majority when the vote is cast.

A good deal of effort is being made to bring in the primary system as a factor in the race for governor, and the views of Senator Triplett on that subject are discussed. When the matter was before the legislature of last winter to compel every district in the State to have the congressional primary Senator Triplett opposed the plan, standing for the Democrat platform of allowing each congressional district to decide the matter as best suited them. He took the same ground relative to the election of county and city officers—to let the localities decide as they might. There has never been a congressional primary in either the Fifth or the Ninth districts, they preferring the convention plan. This was the plan defended by Senator Triplett, and the matter of the State primary was not considered or discussed.

Incidentally, there is growing opposition to the primary because of the workings of the law and the enormous cost as a consequence of the primary. No man who is not willing and ready to spend $50,000 can offer for the governorship under the primary system; it is possible to get the complete State ticket from one congressional district under that system. The people are kept on edge for a year or more, and a candidate who cannot afford to make the race and to neglect all his business for at least a year has a chance to make the race. The primary is a rich man's opportunity that closes the door to the man of limited means for any office beyond that of county or city requirements.

ADVISED TO SIGN ARMY BILL.

President, It Is Said, Will Harken To Leaders, Despite Objection.

Washington, June 29.—President Harding is understood to have been advised today by Senators Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, and Curtis, of Kansas, the party whip, to sign the Army Appropriation bill despite his objections to House provisions requiring summary discharge of about 70,000 men by October 15.

SPORTS

Reservations for sixteen members of the Cardinal Athletic Club baseball team have been made by the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company for Friday evening, July 1. The Cardinals will play the United States Naval Training Station All-Stars teams, at Hampton, Virginia, a three-day game series. The first game will be played Saturday, July 2; the second game, Sunday, July 3 and the third game, Monday, July 4.

The All-Stars will be selected from the best baseball players of the Hampton Training Station and the same men will play for the championship honors with other teams representing the different United States Naval Training stations, which will commence early in July.

The Cardinals will use the following named players in the line-up: Tetreault, shortstop; Bailey, second base; King, first base; Plunkett, center field; Burthe, catcher; Loomis, pitcher; Frank Owens, left field; McCann, third base; "Soldier" Ludlow, right field; Hudson, pitcher; Dwyer, pitcher; Roland Jones, pitcher; McDonough, pitcher; Jim Sweeney, all-around utility player. The selections for battery duties are as follows: Hudson and Loomis, Saturday, July 2; McDonough and Burthe, Sunday, July 3; "Speeding" Jones and Burthe, Monday, July 4.

The above-named players are well known to the baseball fans hereabouts and they are sure to make the Naval Training Station lads play great baseball to win the series.

Manager Harvey C. Crump and Joseph E. Owens, secretary-treasurer, will attend to the business interests of the Cardinals. Three meals a day; lodging; an excellent cash guarantee; motorboat and sailboat trips galore; salt-water bathing and a general good time is promised the Cardinal clan.

The Cardinal Athletic Club baseball team have had obstacles placed in their way during the present baseball season that have caused them much annoyance, nevertheless, they are like the Shamrocks of Ireland—they cannot be kept down and are determined to grow.

The president of the Cardinals has secured the rights to use an excellent plot of ground of many acres on West King street near the Union Station. After some minor alterations are made to the grounds, plans will be studied to make it a general show grounds, where carnivals, circuses, and many other attractions can be exhibited. If the baseball fans cooperate with the Cardinals by offering suggestions that will be beneficial to the Alexandria public, there is no reason why an up-to-date athletic arena cannot be erected on the above-mentioned plot. Nothing would be more pleasing to the Cardinals—the oldest known sandlot athletic club in America—than to have a home field to be known as the "Cardinal Baseball Arena."

VIRGINIA NEWS

Petersburg.—Friday morning will see Camp Lee, the training grounds for thousands of young men from Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania in the world war, a deserted place and as still as the fields before the cantonment city sprang up in 1917, for over 300 of the troops now stationed there will then be on their way to Camp Meade, Md. There are now less than 400 soldiers at the camp, following the departure several months ago of the Forty-third and Sixty-second Infantry Regiments, but today official orders were received transferring 300 soldiers to the Maryland camp.

Lynchburg, Va.—Walter Smith, owner of "Clover Hill" Farm, his ancestral home near Leesville, Campbell County, has there a moss rose-bush which was planted by his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Stephen P. Smith, a century ago, when she went to the plantation as a bride. The bush not only outlived Mrs. Smith, but all of her seventeen children, and it now has a main stem of more than four inches in diameter and spreads over a space about fifteen feet square.

According to preliminary figures from the 1920 census of agriculture, Virginia ranked third in 1919 in the production of apples, producing 9,942,520 bushels.

Lynchburg, Va.—Oscar Brooks, who lives on Lorain street here, has a calf born Saturday morning which has two heads, or rather a double head. The head has two ears, four eyes, two mouths and two tongues. It is being bottle-fed, and feeds equally as well with one mouth as the other, and shows no distress if the bottle is transferred from one mouth to the other and back again. The calf appears to be strong and healthy.

Staunton, Va.—The proposed establishment here of a world university as a memorial to Woodrow Wilson as his birthplace is attracting wide attention. The Chamber of Commerce has become interested in the project and will soon, it is announced, make definite data public.
